EDWIN M. GANGEMI, MD

Founder of Jersey Rehab, one of the Northeast's most comprehensive practices for pain management and rehabilitative treatment, board-certified physiatrist Dr. Edwin Gangemi strives to advance the field of pain medicine with new and innovative ways to help patients lead productive lives. "We get patients back to work by providing exceptional care and adapting to the rapidly changing protocols in our field," he says. A specialist in both inpatient and outpatient physical medicine and rehabilitation (PM&R), he treats a vast array of neuromusculoskeletal injuries, including stroke, amputations, neck pain, low back pain, carpal tunnel syndrome, and pre- and post-joint replacement surgery.

Since its inception in 1993, the success of Dr. Gangemi's dynamic, full-service practice has been built on accurate diagnoses and conservative management of patients with acute or chronic pain. The four-time New Jersey Monthly Top Doctor and diplomate of the American Board of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation is joined at Jersey Rehab by Dr. Robert A. Marini, Dr. Shailendra Hajela, Dr. Felix Almentero, Dr. Nickhil Gupta and a warm, knowledgeable staff of professionals. Dr. Gangemi is currently the rehabilitation director at Meadowlands Hospital Medical Center's inpatient 30-bed acute rehabilitation facility.

HOSPITAL AFFILIATIONS: Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville; Meadowlands Hospital Medical Center, Secaucus; HackensackUMC Mountainside, Montclair; Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston. MEDICAL TRAINING: New York Medical College (MD); Kessler Institute of Rehabilitation—UMDNJ (residency in physical medicine and rehabilitation).
